About SNØedge

SNØedge was born from a group of U.S.-based skiers and snowboarders with diverse international roots, united by five seasons of shared winter adventures across the world. We are a 501(c)(7) non-profit ski club dedicated to supporting the local snow communities that shaped us as skiers and snowboarders.

Our mission is to preserve and celebrate mountain culture worldwide — supporting local businesses directly, partnering with mountain communities ethically and responsibly, and resisting profit- and greed-driven international investment that erodes cultural heritage and their way of life with its cookie-cutter development.

About the Trip Leader

Tomo Sawamura was born in Gifu, Japan, on a day when Ullr went overboard — over a foot of powder overnight.

Born into generations of skiing family in the Japan Alps region, Tomo and 2 brothers grew up riding on “pizza box” single chairs and skiing Japow in the 80s and 90s. After working as a project manager for architecture firms in New York for 25 years, she now designs buildings and translates on a per-project basis while traveling around the world with SNØedge. Tomo is a single mother to a 16-year-old guitarist/artist daughter, and splits her time between the US and Japan.
